SAMUEL G. WIENER SR. ARCHITECTURAL RECORDS

Biographical Note

Samuel G. Wiener was a noted Shreveport architect. Born in Monroe, La., he was a graduate of the University of Michigan and the Ecole des Beaux Arts in Paris, a fellow in the American Institute of Architects, the first president of the North Louisiana Chapter of the American Institute of Architects and a 15-year member of the state board of architectural examiners. Mr. Wiener received a certificate of award from the National Board of Architectural Examiners.

Wiener was a member of B'Nai Zion Congregation, a past president of the Shreveport Jewish Federation and the Shreveport-Bossier Goodwill Industries and a former trustee of B'Nai Zion Temple and the Shreveport-Bossier Mental Health Center.

His early works in the 1920's were traditional in design and include Kings Highway Christian Church, the Shreveport Municipal Auditorium and Fair Park High School. In the 1930's Who's Who in America titled him a "pioneer in contemporary architecture." The notable and utilitarian design of the Shreveport Incinerator (1934) brought it the reputation of one of the "25 Best Buildings East of the Rocky Mountains." His contemporary style is imprinted on the face of Shreveport and the Ark-La-Tex in numerous works including the Shreveport Municipal Airport, the LSU Medical Center, the Big Chain Shopping Centers and the Marjorie Lyons Playhouse.

He became noted for his functional style of architecture in the designing of schools which more easily met modern teaching and administrative needs. Representative of some of his work in this area are Bossier City High School, Werner Park Elementary School, Caddo Heights Elementary School and Winfield Elementary and High Schools. Hospitals, too, utilized his talents for functional design. The Children's Clinic, the Orthopedic Clinic and P & S Hospital all were designed by Mr. Wiener. Other Wiener contributions include the Fairfield Building, the Shreveporter Motel, Bossier Bank and Trust and the B'Nai Zion Temple.

Scope and Content Note

This is an extensive architectural collection containing more than 150 tracings and blueprints and approximately 400 photographs documenting trends in Shreveport architecture from the 1920's through the 1960's. Included are drawings and blueprints of such prominent public buildings as the Shreveport Municipal Auditorium, the Greater Shreveport Municipal Airport and the Shreveport Incinerator, for numerous educational facilities as the Centenary Marjorie Lyons Playhouse, Airline High School and Plantation Park School, for health facilities as Children's Clinic and Confederate Memorial Medical Center, for business and commercial buildings as Commercial National Bank, the Big Chain Stores and the Washington-Youree Hotel, and several area residences.

Approximately 400 photographs are included and document a great number of the projects.

Correspondence, articles and clippings document some of the more well-known projects and those projects which won awards or received other notoriety or acknowledgement, such as the Shreveport Incinerator.

Included also are some of Wiener's job books, though the record is not complete. There are biographical sketches of Mr. Wiener and articles on design by Wiener as well as other architects.

In the papers there are some drawings and a small amount of related correspondence regarding PWA, WPA and CWA projects of the 1930's.
